COMPANY TAKES DRASTIC ACTION

Pittsburg, Pa., November 30.—The strike of the trainmen at the Home-Steel and Edgar Thompson plants of the Steel Corporation, assumes a more ominous aspect to-day when the company called in all the strikers and paid them off. This ungraded dismissal of 900 men came as a shock, immediately following a conference the strikers' committee had with President Dinkley, of the Carnegie Steel Company.

Mr. Dinkley asked that the men return to work pending negotiation, but refused to order the reinstatement of the four yard trainmasters, who were discharged for circulation of petitions. The men rejected Dinkley's ultimatum. The reinstatement of the four men would mean the resumption of operations at both plants and would take $100 out of idleness.

The discharge of the trainmen put the steel workers in an ugly mood. Late this afternoon the doors of the stockade about the two plants were closed, and the strikebreakers inside were forbidden to leave. They are housed in the hospital building. Provisions are being carried into the barracks. The strike leaders are cautioning against manifestation of violence and counseling the men to stay off the streets.

FIND CAUSE FOR BLINDNESS.

Physicians Discover Woman's Skull Is Twice Normal Thickness.

Weehawken, N. J., November 30.—Blind for forty years, Mrs. Amanda Cole, forty-eight, mother of fourteen children, never knew the cause of her blindness until William, her seventeen-year-old son this afternoon accidentally shot her in the forehead.

The bullet flattened out against the bone, and did not seriously injure Mrs. Cole, but physicians, in examining the wound, discovered that her skull was more than twice the normal thickness. They said that undoubtedly the thick skull had pressed against the optic nerves and trophied them, thus causing blindness.

Mrs. Cole was sitting in her home, when a child handed her some money that the father had sent William Cole, was cleaning a revolver, and playfully pointing it at his mother, told her to give him the money. The pistol accidentally was discharged, the bullet fired from close range striking the woman between the eyes.

Dr. Collier Dead.

New York, November 30.—The Rev. Robert Collier, D. D., pastor emeritus of the Church of the Messiah, and a widely known Unitarian divine, died shortly before midnight to-night at his home here, aged eighty-nine years. Dr. Collier suffered a paralytic stroke a month ago, and for the past few days he had been sinking rapidly.

HELD ON CHARGE OF GRAND LARCENY

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Norfolk, Va., November 30.—William A. K. Rhy, Jr., eighteen years old, of Durham, N. C., is locked up at the First Precinct Police Station charged with the grand larceny of a diamond ring valued at $250 belonging to Mrs. A. P. Thom, Jr.

The ring was stolen from the residence, Freemason and Botetourt streets, on Friday afternoon. Rhy had been admitted to the house to look after the electric lights, having represented himself as being connected with the Virginia Railway and Power Company.

Those at the house had no idea of the loss of the ring until word of its recovery was conveyed to them by Detective Spratt this morning. Rhy made a full confession to the officers.

Must Face Charges.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Savannah, Ga., November 30.—Closely guarded by detectives, Diggs Nolan, wanted in Omaha to face charges of using the mails to defraud, left Savannah to-day for the Nebraska city. Nolan was arrested here several days ago by Federal officers. Nolan is said to be under indictment for alleged swindling operations in several Southwestern States.

'PLANE CAPSIZES; PILOT DUCKED

Water Craft Turns Over When
Pupil Operator Fails to Make Correct Landing.

After two successful flights yesterday morning, W. F. Sale, a pupil of Greenhow and Langstaff Johnson, well known as local aviators, failed to alight properly after the third trip in their hydroplane, capsized it and was thrown in the James River near Mayo's Island.

Langstaff Johnson had been teaching Sale how to use the hydroplane and allowed him to skim the river's surface and above it. When attempting to descend to the water after his third trip Sale failed to "heel" the craft, but came down headfirst, landing on the front pontoons. The strange craft, which has attracted unusual attention on the James, hesitated a moment and then turned completely over. The operator was thrown out, but the plane came to rest on its side. When Johnson came to Sale's aid in a motorboat the powerful engines of the plane were still moving, though submerged. Sale was unhurt.

Mr. Johnson and his brother have been at work on the hydroplane for a long while, and it was only recently completed. Experts in various sections have complimented them upon their skill. The design is original, and patents upon it are now pending in this and other countries.

EDITOR MARCHES IN LABOR PARADE

Freed Labor Leader Is Centre of Wildly Enthusiastic
Crowd.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
New York, November 30.—While the fur-caped, sub-lined Fifth Avenue Saturday afternoon crowd was thickest to-day, handsomely gowned down halted automobiles to watch curiously a crowd of a thousand shabbily dressed men parade down that thoroughfare of wealth singing the "Marseillaise" in this instance.

Arm in arm, in the centre of the crowd marched Joseph Ettor, a rugged faced young man fresh from Aquilata on a charge of murder by a Massachusetts jury, and William D. Haywood, head of the Industrial Workers of the World.

At the police, who were on hand to herd the workmen close to the west curb and keep them moving, the marchers hurried the stirring chorus of the song.

Men, women and child workers flung themselves upon Ettor to congratulate him and express their approval of the march. Ettor, who had a black felt hat with "Big Bill" Haywood bobbed around continuously, for it required all of his strength to keep the crowd from carrying him off bodily. A procession formed at the Grand Central Station, where Haywood met Ettor on his arrival here, and the men marched down the avenue to Union Square, where Ettor made two brief speeches, one in English and the other in Italian. He spoke only a few moments, but thousands heard.

"I owe my life to only one crowd of people in this world, namely the men, women and children who dream, hope and aspire. I do," said Ettor. "I have no one to thank for my liberty but the working class. It is only because the women and children of the working class took the rings from their fingers and the earrings from their ears and threw them into the melting pot to raise funds to hire the best legal talent that I am free."

Ettor, scheduled to speak to-morrow in Boston, canceled that engagement and will address a mass-meeting to-morrow in Harlem.

PAY STATION STOLEN

Thief Gets Away With Telephone and Cash Box in Lunch Room.

Unlike other thieves who have been robbing telephone pay stations of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia, some person last night about 9 o'clock, not content to take the money alone, but carried off the instrument and the attached cash box from the Capital City Lunch Room, 26 East Broad Street. Although the place, during the day and evening was filled with customers, no one was seen to steal the box. The fact that it was missing was discovered about 9 o'clock, and the police were immediately notified. The wire which attached the telephone to the wall had evidently been cut with a sharp knife.

NO MONEY TO EMPLOY ATTORNEY.

Trial of Carl Riedelbach Is Set for December 4.

Los Angeles, Cal., November 30.—The trial of Carl Riedelbach, who threatened to dynamite the police station and its occupants, was set for December 4 by Judge Willis, of the criminal department of the Superior Court, to-day. Riedelbach, who previously had declared he "was capable of conducting his own case," told Judge Willis to-day that he had neither an attorney nor the money to employ one, so the court reappointed one to defend him.

BODY OF STUDENT FOUND IN WOODS

Greenville, S. C., November 30.—After being missing from his room at Furman College since yesterday morning, the body of W. D. Watson, aged thirty-one, of Nixonville, S. C., a student, was found to-day in a patch of woods two miles from the city by a party of students who had been scouring the territory since yesterday. Watson, who had frequent melancholy spells, is believed to have committed suicide. This theory also is borne out by a note found in the dead man's clothes, which read: "No one else did this but me."

ALLEGED EMPLOYEE WAS DEALER IN STOCKS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Chicago, November 30.—Purchase of stocks by George W. Fitzgerald, charged with the embezzlement of $100,000 from the Submarine Mine, were related by witnesses before United States Judge Carpenter to-day. Philip J. Foley testified that Fitzgerald bought $100 of stock in the Foley Manufacturing Company November 8, 1912. Further stock purchases in the same firm were made in 1912. Mrs. May L. Hunt, formerly secretary of the Illinois Bolt, Nut and Poring Company, told of Fitzgerald's transactions with that firm. The trial was then adjourned until Monday.

BIRTH RATE AFFECTS ARMY

Number of French Recruits Available Is Greatly Reduced.
Paris, November 30.—That the number of recruits available for the French army was reduced from 218,000 in 1904 to 218,000 in 1911, owing to the immigration of the birth rate in France, was the startling assertion made by Joseph Reinach in the debate in the Chamber of Deputies to-day on the bill relating to infantry enrollment.

In the Wake of the Game

By GUS MALBERT

Of course, Andy Carnegie may never have the superlative joy of knowing us. We feel confident in even mentioning the name of the great iron-monger, who has endowed libraries, presidents, and has even placed a premium upon being a hero. Just as if we common mortals who want to parade our braveries for the benefit of the girl-who-really-counts must be made to feel that we will be buried beneath the weight of dollars and a huge medal made of silver, or gold, or bronze. How much more appropriate it would have been if steel were the metal selected, with a Singer Building, done in miniature, decorating the centre. None of which is what we started out to say or do. We are now—put a rope under that sword instead of a hair—going to place the teams, football teams, in the South

Atlantic Division in the relative places they should logically occupy.

- 1.—Georgetown
- 2.—St. Johns
- 3.—V. M. I.
- 4.—Virginia
- 5.—V. P. I.
- 6.—Carolina A. & M.
- 7.—Carolina
- 8.—Hopkins
- 9.—Duke

Which is our notion of being a brave man. Starting with the first argument against this alignment, Virginia will shout that the team never struck its stride until after the Vanderbilt game; that the Orange and Blue made a mistake in meeting V. M. I. until after the team was conditioned, and that at least both of the teams rated above Virginia could be whipped by the Charlottesville aggregation at this time. All of which we fully believe. But—

Virginia was beaten by V. M. I. and V. M. I. in turn did lose to St. Johns. It would take a very vivid imagination, not to say gaul, to rate an eleven which had won over another below the vanquished. While Virginia holds that the team was not in shape to play V. M. I., the odds say that they were not in shape to play St. Johns, that the regular backfield was never in the game. The rest of the selection is comparatively easy. Virginia, in our humble opinion, has the second best eleven in the South. Vanderbilt alone having the edge. But Virginia would not back our opinion by winning games when games won were the only thing on earth which could back such a contention. V. M. I. a conqueror even Hampden-Sydney playing the Orange and Blue to a practical standstill, lost to Vanderbilt, and Georgetown, how is one to bolster a forlorn sentiment on such ground.

So there they are. Look at the hope; compare the scores; leave sentimentalism in the background and use facts and records and see if that rating is not nearly correct. V. P. I. is going to raise a howl. But the greatest howl will come from Washington and Lee. We have had several arguments relative to the Lexington eleven. But our position, that Washington and Lee, having played professionally, is out of consideration will stand until we have been convinced that it is an untenable position.

If Washington and Lee is considered in rating the eleven in this section, or in picking an All-South Atlantic team, then we must concede professional football and put a premium upon getting a winning team regardless. We do not charge that Washington and Lee has not acted according to its lights, but we feel that the lights are rather dim and will never blaze the way to clean athletics in the colleges of this Six.

The Army triumphed over the navy. Another star has been added to the galaxy of tomen created during this season. Brown, unknown and unsung, is a greater hero in the eyes of the seamen at Annapolis than ever was Dewey, Schley or Hobson. Even the wonderful Drake passes into oblivion compared with Brown—J. H. Brown. Like Dalton, his predecessor, when opportunity came he grasped it. The last period, won for his eleven, Thorpe, Brickley and the rest of the clan polish up the press notices, for it is Brown now who has the spotlight.

WILL OPEN HEART OF MOROCCO.

Construction of Railroad From Tangier to Fez Is Planned.

Paris, November 30.—Immediate construction of a railroad from Tangier to Fez, capital of Morocco, is provided for in the supplementary articles of the Franco-Spanish treaty in reference to Morocco, the text of which was published here to-day.

The new railroad, with its branches extending to other parts of Morocco, will mean the opening of the heart of the Moroccan Empire to communication with the outside world.

Certificate for Democrat.

Topeka, Kan., November 30.—The Kansas Board of Canvassers issued a certificate of election as Governor to George H. Hodges, Democrat, to-day. The action came after the denial of the Supreme Court to grant Capper, Republican, a rehearing in the Wau-banche County legal ballot case.

STATE REFORMATORY FOR WOMEN IS URGED

Chicago, November 30.—A State reformatory for women, with a farm for them to work on, will be urged upon the next Illinois Legislature by the Illinois Women's Democratic Club. An appropriation of $200,000 to build the reformatory and equip the farm will be asked for.

"We must take better care of our women prisoners," said Mrs. Jones, sponsor for the new measure. "Women are more discouraged than men when they finish a term of imprisonment. We want a place for them to work out of doors, and we want three women on the board of prison commissioners."

Match May Be Arranged.
San Francisco, Cal., November 30.—Tom Jones, Ad. Wolcott's manager, and Jack Perkins, Frankie Burns' manager, this afternoon conferred with Promoter Jimmy Coffroth with a view of arranging a fight between Wolcott and Burns here on December 14. It is believed that a match will be made.
